Washington (AP) — Rep. Liz Cheney says he was wrong to oppose gay marriage in the past, a booth that once divided his family. Cheney, R-Wyo., A fierce critic of another Republican Donald Trump, also says to CBS News — “À 60 minutes” Those who have seen his re-election campaign as the most important home race in the nation while the forces aligned with the previous president try to spread it. He voted to impose Trump in his role in the January 6 revolt at the United States Capitol.in The interview Helped Sunday evening, Cheney said he had a little affection for President Joe Biden, who believes that he embraced harmful madness for the economy and national security with the withdrawal of Afghanistan. — “But the alternative cannot be a man who does not believe in the rule of law, and who violated his office oath,” said Cheney. The daughter of former vice president Dick Cheney was an ascendant Republican leader before The revolt of January 6, yet is increasingly defined by his public opposition to Trump and his grip on the GOP. Cheney, 55, noted that he still speaks to his father every night and that share the same views on refusing Trump. Her objections caused a rift with her sister, Maria, a married lesbian. Mary’s spouse, Heather Poe, published on Facebook that year that Cheney’s position was offensive and that “I always thought about freedom meant freedom for everyone.” In the interview, Cheney said his opposition to gay marriage was misled and channeled his Facebook post of his Facebook sister-in-law to explain why he changed his position. — “I have made a mistake. I was wrong, —” says. — “It’s a very personal problem —” and very personal for my family. I think my dad was right. And my sister and I had that conversation... freedom means freedom for everyone. - While opposed to gun control, abortion and treatment at affordable prices, or — “Obamacare”, — “Wyoming Congresswoman finds The outs for the vote for the emperors to win Trump after his rally on January 6 preceded a crowd that precipitated the Capitol in hope of overturning his re-election loss to Biden. Trump continues to falsely claim electoral fraud despite the results certified by Republican states and electoral officials and tribunals that reject dozens of legal challenges. After voting for impotence Trump, Cheney lost his post of leadership as a chair of the Republican House Conference. Nancy Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi poses on a committee of nine people to investigate the assault on January 6 and she acts as vice president. Trump promised to defeat Cheney in the primary election next year by supporting Republican Harriet Hageman, a lawyer. Cheney, seeking a fourth term, said nothing less than the Constitution Authority. “I think it’s the country’s most important home race in 2022. It is —” and will do it to be one where people have the opportunity to say, “we want to endure the constitution,” said Cheney. — “Go against me in this race, a vote for anyone who has approved a vote, is a vote for someone who is willing to perpetuate the great lie, someone who is willing to make Trump loyalty over loyalty to The Constitution, absolutely. —”The Wyoming Congresswoman criticized the Republican Chief House Kevin McCarthy of California to attack Trump after the assault on Capitol.» What were made is to embrace Donald Trump, — “said. — “And if I was doing what he’s doing, I would be deeply ashamed of myself. I don’t know how to explain it to your parents.When you’re in a situation where you have someone who did what Donald Trump did, it’s absolutely clear that he can’t keep being someone you embraced. —”American politician for the artist and educator, see Mary Moulton Cheney.
