Warning: Can only detect less than 5000 charactersMessage using a mestimony of words like a mestonimo or a heteronimo or the token, unless it is certain that my listeners (or readers) have familiarized with its meaning. Or that, or I'm ready to add the definition for their benefit, in which case I could have just used the definition first. However, learning the correct use of words, however arcane, can be useful, and if you like the words themselves, even funny. What's your yours In his book "The half-life of the facts: because everything we know has a deadline", Samuel Arbesman3 discusses the changes in the language that occur over time and the two fields that see this phenomenon differently. He explains prescriptive grammars like those who focus on the way in which words should be used and descriptive grammatics like those who are more worried than the way they are actually used. Arbesman states that every individual develops his own series of rules on how to use words, and that we all "you, me, and all others ... have our personal idiot. This delicious term describes our only language model And speech, as determined by what we have learned when we were young, as well as those who surround us, and includes our grammar, vocabulary, word pronunciation, and even our accent. There is an important lesson here. If we continue To effectively communicate effectively, we must be aware that every time we codily a message, someone whose idiolect is significantly different from ours could simply be decoded in such a way as to obtain a different message. So pays pay attention to ours. Choice of words; it really is a message, or simply "words, words, words"? A © 2013 Ken Michaels. All rights reserved.
