You'll find this gun in Media Luna in the village of La Loma, just north of the Media Luna Bravo rally point. It has excellent damage and handles well, but you'll need to compensate for its below average accuracy. You will find three shotguns in the provinces, 3 from the bosses, and one in the Deluxe Edition -- 7 in total. The weapon case is in an empty yellow storage crate by the river. You'll need to choose the Skill Points option for the first time you do this in a province in order to access the option to reveal all weapon case locations, which is only available the second time you grab intel there. There are 13 SMGs in Wildlands -- 9 from the weapon caches and 4 from the bosses. Get them all until you find the one that contains the information about the weapons locations. Once you do, look for the markers with gun and a plus sign to see where all the weapon cases in that region are. (opens in new tab) (opens in new tab)TAR-21 (Assault Rifle) The TAR-21 is a great option if you're in the market for an assault rifle that can take on vehicles. (opens in new tab) (opens in new tab)SASG-12 (Shotgun) The SASG-12 is a shotgun that can do a massive amount of damage if you can handle it right. Snag it in F.O.B. Vibora in La Cruz, which is southeast of Khochi. And despite being powerful weapons, they're not too accurate. It's in one of the side buildings along the main stretch. Also, it's a loud weapon...so if you're not too worried about being detected, then go for it. You'll find it in one of the upper floors of a house just east of the story mission intel point. There you will find a description of the weapon's location by hovering over it with your cursor. (opens in new tab) (opens in new tab)The Scorpion EVO 3 is the opposite of the MK249 in that it's great as a close-quarters weapon thanks to its low recoil. There are 13 sidearms in total -- 4 from the bosses, 8 from the weapon cases and one as a Twitch Prime reward. Look for an ammo shed to find the case. Look for an ammunition shed with an exploding grenade sign to find the case. Go get them! Now, if you don't want to mess with all this, just follow the directions provided below.Assault Rifle LocationsAssault rifles are some of the most popular weapons in the game. Go to the western end of Montuyoc and find the mines there to get the case inside. To get it, go to Koani and head for the combat outpost south of the town of Huertas. The map will mark the cases with the desired weapons. They are usually more compact and used for personal protection rather than offensive attacks. It's in the San Mateo base south of the train station. (opens in new tab) (opens in new tab)MSR (Sniper Rifle) The MSR has fantastic stats all around, and is an easy one to grab right when you start. What follows is ten of the best weapons to have in your arsenal across and where to find them.No matter what weapons you go for, gathering intel helps immensely, revealing all the weapon case locations in a region. The light machine gun is in Malca at an outpost north of Icoya and right next to the lake on the southernmost end of the map. They can be used both offensively and stealthily with the help of a suppressor and well-measured shots. For more details on how to find the MSR and why it's so good, check out our dedicated guide (opens in new tab). Ubisoft will update the current list of available weapons in the game with new additions, but there are still plenty of them for you to locate at this early stage.You can find weapons and attachments inside the weapon cases in all 21 provinces. You will find 8 LMGs -- 6 from the cases and 2 from the bosses. The TAR-21 is in the Montuyoc region in the town of Choza Padre, which is just south of the giant lake in the middle of the province. It takes some doing to find them all, though, and some are better than others. Look for it in an open red storage container. Its penetration power is top notch, though you'll still take a hit in the accuracy department. Go to that area and look for all intel caches (tagged as white exclamation marks on the TACMAP). But you're limited to what guns you can include in your loadout, and though you can find new ones from enemy drops, they don't stay with you once you abandon them. Each province has its own unique stash of weapons, so keep an eye out on the areas with the weapons that you're looking for the most.Also, here is a short guide on how to find every weapon in the game, if you don't want to spoil the fun and find them all by yourself.How to Find Every Weapon in Ghost Recon: Wildlands In the Loadout screen, choose which weapon and/or attachment you want to obtain. Grab it on the very eastern edge of P.N. de Agua Verde at an outpost just north of Arroyo Baya. You'll find it in the El Yayo Cooperative in Monte Puncu, to the west of Chaca Barracha (opens in new tab) (opens in new tab)SPAS-12 (Shotgun) The SPAS-12 makes for an excellent weapon to use to go up against large groups in small spaces due to its impressive rate of fire.
