In this guide progression, King Wea intend to go beyond how to build your friends list, progression, monsters, runes, and much more! These are all crucial elements to understand and are needed to save a lot of time and energy. Donate T Jump any of these or more Youà ¢ King to kick in one foot later. At the end of the blog I put some very helpful resources that you can use to help your progression. Thanks in advance for reading! Step # 1 - Add friends and a good friendhaving a lot of friends to SW is very important. If you start, don't worry. Just ask people in chat and add you. One of the main advantages is the possibility to use your friends Mostri REP at the help level the other monsters. The best part is that you get Exp Exp bonus from the rep and mentor monsters that give them when you use them! Look for friends who can Farm Faimon like Lapis or Verad. It is advisable to always use your REP monsters first every day to help speed up the leveling process. Do not be shy! Go there outside and make some important friends: be a good friend! Make sure you have a representative monster that is useful for Faima agriculture like Lapis. People will not add if he has a useless representative. Why should they? If Cana T Farm with your representative monster, then there is no point in addition. If you want an impressive friend who is useful, then you need to be too one. Step # 2 - Registered a simple reason for a Guild There to get into a guild as soon as possible. Guild awards. These are accessible only to guild members. While fighting against other corporations and get into sedas. Gilda points are received. There are a lot of great value prizes you will want to spend your points up. At the beginning of the game, there are a lot of lower level guilds that automatically accept new members. There is no need to request high guilds if you are no higher level with a lot of fresh monsters in Summoners War. Knowing what to spend your energy in is a lot This was actually why we created this website. There is no right or wrong way to play this game, however, there is a slow and, of course, a fastest way. If you find a monster you like, there is no right or wrong way to play this game, however, there is a slow and, of course, a fastest way. These monsters have been designed for the final PVP game or are food monsters). One of the biggest mistakes first players is by leveling a monster only to realize that it's only good for the end-game content. This wastes a lot of precious resources, and dramatically slow down your progress. It 'ok if you have one and really want to build it, but I highly recommend not doing this habit unless you want to be stuck in the early game forever. Step # 4 - conquer the giant GB10Giants B10 may be daunting at first, but it definitely needs to work toward that goal. GB10 is where you farm to get great runes to strengthen the monsters. Now, there's definitely a highest strategy GB10 to expedite the process for you. Try to focus a substantial amount of energy and time into getting to GB10 not only to make your gaming experience easier, but much more fun! GB10 Once you have cleared and cultivated enough runes, it's time to start moving towards GB12. Do GB12 if the rate of failure is too high. Step # 5 - Buff Up with skills UpsPeople complain a lot that even with good monsters and runes show them still do not survive. Need their ability to get the most out of them. You'd be surprised how many evocative forget this. At the beginning of the game, monsters family use the skills. Focus on the ones that are the easiest to get there first. Save your DEVILMONS for your best NAT 5 monsters (they are very difficult to obtain skills UPS family). Step # 6 - Building a team that works togetherin Summoners War, synchronizing your team so that all work together is essential to progress in the game. Many conjurers make the mistake of loading all their bets on a monster or all of the same type. When you do this, chances are your team does not will survive. A typical team needs to have a damage dealer, attack / speed buff, the ability to strip the fans from the boss, and healer. Keep in mind that the fans do not stack, so as to have two of the same will be a waste. Try to strategies and see how each monster contributes to the team as a whole and not just as an individual. Step # 7 - Focus on Rune FarmingAs strong as some of the Nat Nat 4 & 5 monsters are, without good runes will not get very far. Here are some key elements to keep in mind when working on your runes. A ¢ A ¢ focus most of your attention on the 2, 4, and 6 slot. A ¢ A ¢ Get with runes% boost not only flat push stat (except speed) at 2, 4, 6.a A ¢ Pay attention to your multipliers. These make a big difference in his effectiveness. Are you struggle and want to progress in the game 10X faster?
